

AMENDMENTS TO THE ABSTRACT

Please replace the present Abstract in its entirety with the following new Abstract.

--The present invention is an all-terrain vehicle support bracket. The support bracket includes one or more frame assemblies that are removably attachable to a portion of an all-terrain vehicle. The frame assembly or assemblies include support surfaces thereon for supporting an object as positioned on the surface. A variety of objects may be positioned on and supported by the support surface of the frame assembly.--
